STAY INFORMED: Download the Watch Duty App

One of the best sources of information about the status of the fires, the evacuation orders, and latest announcements from government officials is the “Watch Duty” app. It is a nonprofit-run news and information source, using volunteers and full-time employees, including retired firefighters, dispatchers, and reporters to provide live updates on fire conditions. ## WILDFIRE RECOVERY: Los Angeles City & County Websites

Both the City and the County have resources to help you begin the process of recovery. The County webpage lacounty.gov/emergency. The City webpage, which includes dedicated sections for individuals and families, property owners, businesses and workers, shelter and housing services, and more, is lacity.gov

DISASTER RECOVERY: Los Angeles & Pasadena Locations

The City, County, State and FEMA are opening Disaster Recovery Centers for Angelenos impacted by the fires. The centers will operate from 9:00 AM - 8:00 PM, 7 days per week. There will be two locations:

1. Westside: UCLA Research Park West: 10850 West Pico Blvd, Los Angeles, CA 90064
2. Eastside: Pasadena City College Community Education Center, 3035 E. Foothill Blvd., Pasadena, CA 91107

DAMAGE ASSESEMENT OF YOUR PROPERTY

If you live in an evacuation area, and are unsure of the status of your home, officials have begun to conduct inspections and are posting status updates of specific properties on interactive maps. These are preliminary maps showing damage assessments. They are incomplete and will be updated daily. If there is not a color icon on your address, it means a building has not yet been inspected. The Mutual Aid Los Angeles Network has created a searchable spreadsheet of organizations and locations offering shelter, food, supplies, and more. Visit <https://mutualaidla.org> for more information.

PRICE GOUGING

Governor Gavin Newsom has declared that during a state of emergency price gouging above 10% is temporarily prohibited for the next 30 days. Businesses cannot increase the price of food, repairs, construction, housing, emergency medical supplies and gasoline more than 10%. This includes rent increases as well as hikes in hotel and motel prices for evacuees who are seeking emergency housing. Price gouging is subject to criminal prosecution and can result in one year in jail and/or fine up to $10,000. Federal state and local fair housing laws prohibit discrimination and housing based on protected characteristics such as race, disability, religion, source of income immigration status and more. These protections also apply in short term housing, like motels hotels in emergency shelters. Local and state disaster relief and services are available for immigrants regardless of status. To learn more, and report housing discrimination in Los Angeles County and Ventura County, contact the Housing Rights Center. Toll-free 1-800-477-5977 email info@housingrightscenter.org. If you believe you are a victim of price gouging, save your receipts and contact the County Department of Business and Community Affairs at (800) 593-8222 or file an online complaint. For more information about scams during and after an emergency, read DCBA's After the Disaster news article.

WORKERS AND BUSINESSES

The Los Angeles County Department of Economic Opportunity has launched an emergency resources webpage for workers and businesses impacted by the wildfires. Workers can find information on unemployment, health care, job search assistance, FEMA assistance and more here. Businesses can find information on loans, grants, and financial assistance here. For those of you who have suffered loss, we grieve with you and for you, and we are here to help and support you. For those who are donating and volunteering, thank you for demonstrating the heart and the strength of Los Angeles. Together we will recover.
